

KEY

In WATER

Eggs in water puddle on leaf

Larvae. Notice it's upside down and breathes through a siphon (like a straw) under water

Pupa in water

Adult female laying eggs in water

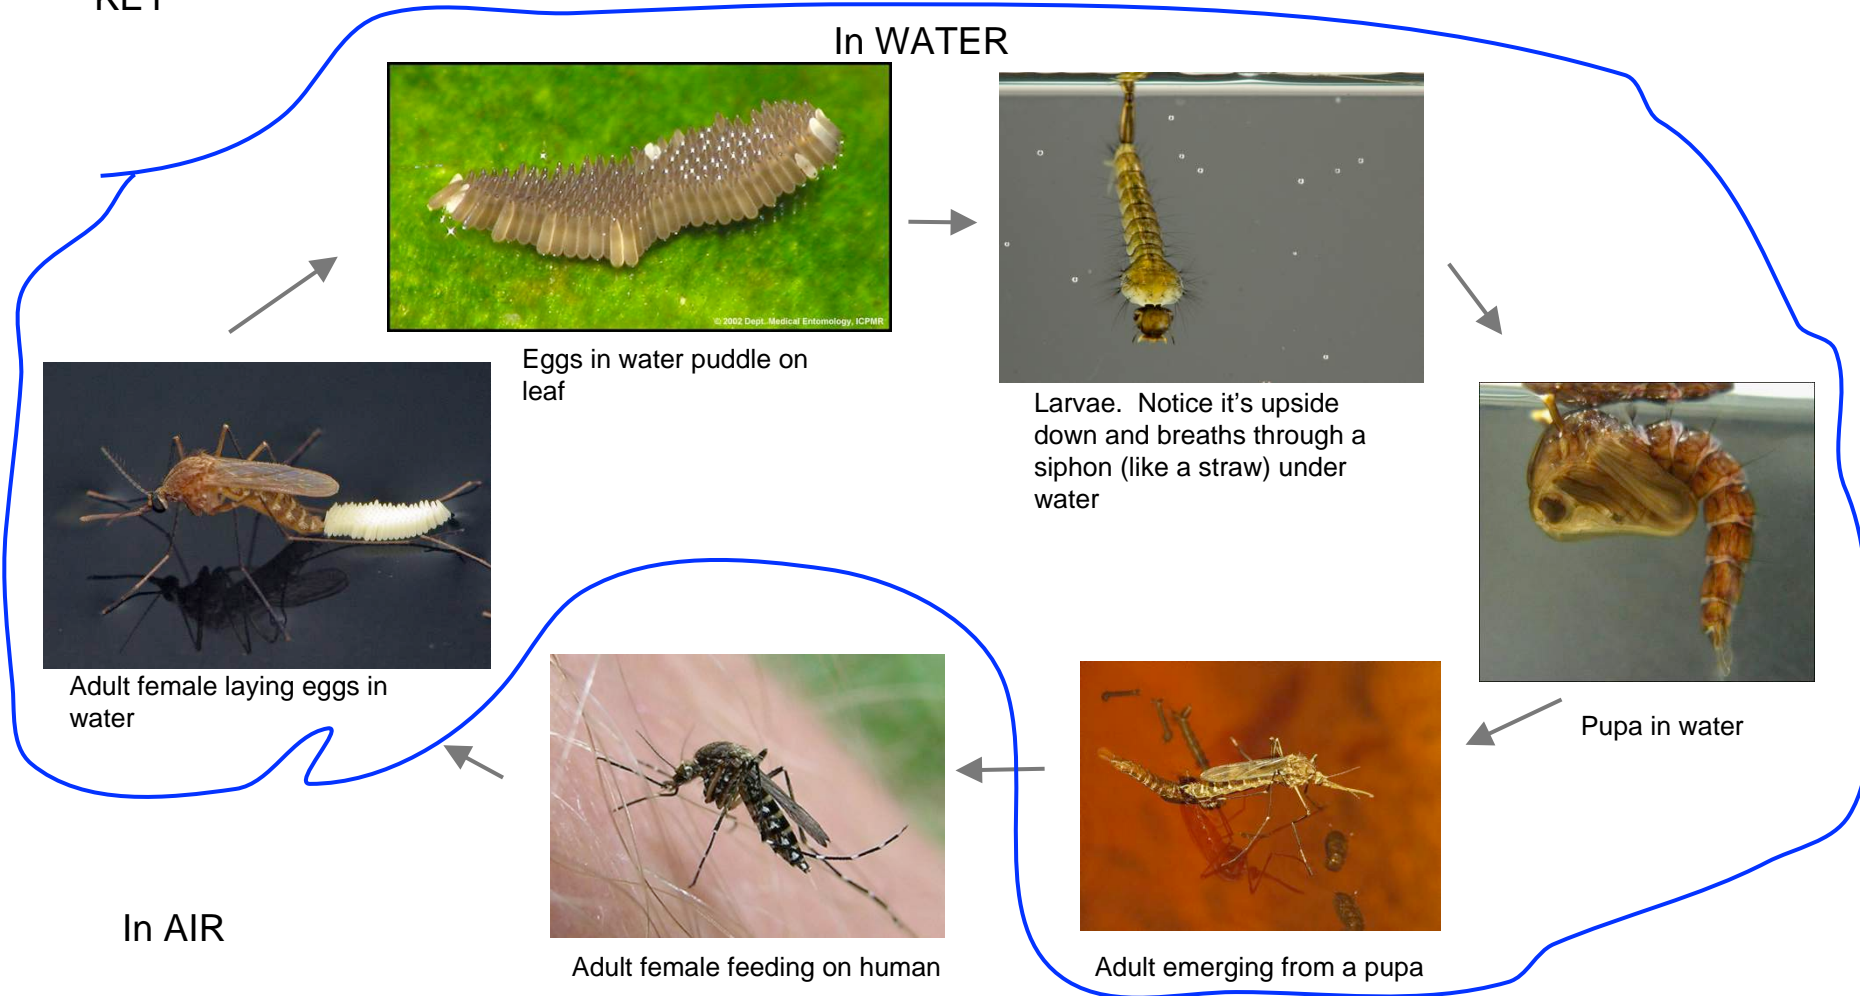

Adult female feeding on human

Adult emerging from a pupa

In AIR

Two common backyard mosquitoes in North Carolina

Aedes albopictus -Asian tiger mosquito
Adults

Female

Male

Ochlerotatus triseriatus- Treehole mosquito
Adults

Female

Male

Some more images of females

Aedes albopictus

Ochlerotatus triseriatus

Tree holes are where many female mosquitoes lay their eggs and the larvae and pupae develop before the mosquito emerges. What items in your backyard look like a tree hole?

Which of these items might be an egg laying habitat for tree hole mosquitoes...

